Forecast For West Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Monday 12 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Another cold day with wintry showers.

Today:
After a bright frosty start, patchy cloud will develop to bring a few showers and sunny spells. These showers could turn wintry, falling as snow at times, especially over higher ground. Feeling cold, although more pleasant in any sunshine. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers soon easing during the evening alongside cloud dispersing overnight to become largely clear and dry with some patchy cloud. Feeling cold with another widespread frost forming. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Tuesday:
After a bright and frosty start, cloud will gradually increase throughout the day bringing some isolated showers along with it, however with sunny spells too. Feeling milder than Monday. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Becoming largely dry with some sunshine on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. Generally becoming cloudier during the afternoons. Gradually becoming milder, although still rather cold overnight.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.